

HEF scholarship recipient

Jace attends Iowa State University

Jace Brandhorst

By: Emily Greiner

Jace is attending Iowa State University, majoring in mechanical engineering. His favorite part of college so far is the freedom of college life and having good times with friends. His advice to future college students is to be proactive when it comes to studying. "Study, study, study and if you think you might need a tutor, get one early. Don't wait until the end of the semester when they're more difficult to get. Plus it's pretty difficult to bring your grade back from the dead if you wait until the end of the semester to try to help it," he says.

He says that the HEF scholarship helped me lessen the financial burden. Hudson prepared him for school by teaching him the necessary skills and time management. In the future, he plans on working in the mechanical engineering field.

All 2015 seniors are encouraged to apply for the 2015 HEF scholarships. Deadline is February 20, 2015 at 2 p.m. If anyone has questions about the Hudson Educational Fund (HEF) or about how to donate and contribute to scholarships for both students and projects of Hudson school teachers, please contact Jim Prather, Doug Coonrad, Shawn Kolterman or Joanne Hawkins. HEF is an independent, tax-exempt corporation created to provide scholarships for educational programs and projects of the Hudson Community School District, for both teachers and students. All donations made are tax deductible and nearly 100% of the donations are awarded in scholarships or given directly to programs. Since 1998, HEF has awarded over 200 scholarships and given over $10,000 to support school related projects. Please join in with the future success of scholars in Hudson schools.
